I will admit, my Sony 2020 portable has been an outstanding performer for many years, but time takes a toll, time to replace however Grove Enterprises (an international supplier of radio communications equipment) left us after 35 years of quality service. Bob and Judy won't be able to help but have earned a much deserved retirement. Grove will have more time to write now and his public readings are popular as a performance art form, typified by his annual December reading, in costume and dialect, of Dickens's A Christmas Carol at the John C. Campbell Folk School. I think we have a faithful V.I.P. here, Thanks to Bob Grove.
