

General Curtis E. LeMay - KØGRL - W6EZV
1906-1990 - Chief of Staff USAF, Vice Presidential candidate in 1968, a Buckeye from Columbus, Ohio - A civil engineering student at Ohio State University with decorations & acclaim too numerous to mention. Also known as the father of Strategic Air Command.

General LeMay had special interest in the radio theory and operation of Single Side Band. This mode eventually became the standards for most voice transmission. It is ironic however the aero industry still today uses AM mode in their air to ground transmitters in the commercial field, world wide.

In my effort to give you something out of the ordinary; In an April 1988 Issue of “The New Yorker” magazine, a interview with Senator Barry Goldwater (K7UGA) Goldwater said he repeatedly asked his friend General LeMay if there was any truth to the rumors that UFO’s evidence was stored in a secret room at Wright Patterson Base in Dayton and desired access to the room. According to Senator Goldwater and angry LeMay gave him “holy hell” and said “Not only can’t you get into it but don’t you ever mention it to me again!” scripted from Wikipedia.
