

EAØJC - King Juan Carlos I Spanish Head of State 1975 to present - Born Rome 1938, He successfully oversaw the transition of Spain into a democratic constitutional monarchy.

The King moved to Spain in 1948 to be educated there after his father persuaded Franco to agree. He is a direct descendant of many famous European rulers, therefore related to all of the current monarchs of Europe. He is 3rd cousin to Queen Elizabeth II.

Educated at San Isidro Institute in 1954, then joining the army, undergoing training from 1955-57. More military institutes then in 1961 graduated from Complutense University.

Drake Equipment was favored for the King's home station in earlier years. But ham gear changes and he has replaced that earlier station equipment.

My guess is the King could generate a good size pileup!
